Sports Day and Fair to be Combined

An enthusiastic meeting of business men was held in Mr. J. V. Berscht's store on Monday night to consider ways and means of holding a big sports day in conjunction with the annual Fair of the Didsbury Agricultural Society on July 29th and 30th.

The meeting appointed Mr. M. Coy, chairman, and Mr. T. Thompson, Secretary, pro tem. Mr. J. V. Berscht, who is Manager of the Agricultural Society, gave a short address outlining the reason of the meeting in which he stated that as the Agricultural Society was not allowed to conduct sports at the Fair and as it was the general opinion that some sports should be held on that day the meeting was called to take up the matter.

Mr. McCoy, Vice-Pres. of the Agricultural Society, after taking the chair, also addressed the meeting stating that the Agricultural Society did not intend canvassing the business men for advertising in the Prize List or for donations if the town would carry out the Sports, but that the matter would be left in the hands of the Sports Committee so that they could canvass the town for money to carry out their programme. The Society would have to take the gate receipts but the Sports Committee would have booth and other privileges. He also stated that no officer of the Agricultural Society could hold any office on the Sports Committee.

Mr. Dan Dippel, President of the Society, also addressed the meeting stating that while the Society had gone into debt they were gradually pulling out and they would like to get clear as soon as possible, consequently they thought by working together, the Sports Committee with the Agricultural Society, and the Society with the Committee, they would both be more successful.

After some discussion as to what kind of a program should be followed the matter was left over until another meeting to arrange the program as then it will be known what amount has been subscribed for that purpose.

The meeting elected the following as permanent officers and committees:

J. A. McGhee, President
Geo. Julien, Vice Pres.
J. Miller, Secretary
Finance Committee—Messrs. A. E. Ryan, C. Adshhead, T. Thompson.

Horse Race Committee—D. M. Sinclair, G. Julien, Cressman Bros. and Dr. Malmas.

Baseball Committee—G. Julien, E. E. Freeman, A. C. Fisher.

Athletic Committee—Clint Reiber, A. C. Fisher, A. E. Ryan, J. W. Phillipson.

Booth Committee—A. Axtell, W. Hillyard, C. H. Mobbs, H. Hawkes, Dr. Evans.

Advertising Committee—J. R. Miller, J. W. Phillipson, H. E. Osmond.

The above committees form a committee of the whole and will meet in the C. P. R. waiting room on Tuesday evening next, June 17th at 8.30 p. m. to make further arrangements.

Didsbury Scores Another Win

In spite of the cloudy weather and a shower the Didsbury ball tossers met the Crossfield boosters on Friday night last in a Rosebud League baseball game and picked up another win to the tune of 11 to 4.

The game was pretty much one sided until the fourth inning in favor of Didsbury who had piled up 11 runs against Crossfield's 4 thereby clinching the game. The Crossfield team tightened up somewhat after the fourth but failed to score. Both teams suffered from the moisture which made the balls hard to handle but they stuck with the game and finished the full nine innings.

While the game was not a fast one Didsbury played a good game with few errors and gave the home fans much encouragement for boosting. There is no reason, with the fine material which now comprises the team, why the Didsbury boys should not keep near the top of the list anyway if not take the lead for the Rosebud championship. They are now even with the leaders in the League (Olds) with Carstairs, Crossfield and Innisfail following up behind.

Score by innings—

Didsbury Golf Club's New Officers

The Didsbury Golf Club has just been reorganized for the season, new grounds having been obtained right in the town limits, and the course is now in good shape and play is going right along. There are nine holes and the greens are in excellent condition. Visitors are always welcome. The fee for those who live near the town or in adjoining towns is $3 for gentlemen and $2 for ladies. It is expected that the present grounds will be permanent and that eventually we will have a course of which both visitors and members can be proud of.

The officers for the current year are as follows:

President, J. A. McGhee; vice-president, H. W. Chambers; secretary-treasurer, Alfred Brusso; executive committee, Messrs. J. R. Miller, E. E. Freeman and W. J. Derby; Mrs. W. G. Evans, Mrs. H. Rennie and Mrs. E. E. Freeman.

Council Sit As Court of Revision

The town council met on Monday night of last week in regular session but before commenting the regular order of business sat as a Court of Revision on the Assessments for 1924.

All of the appeals were turned down and the assessments sustained, the Council expressing the opinion that they would welcome a settlement of some disputed assessments by a judge. The dissatisfied ratepayers have ten days in which to take their appeal to a higher court.

Mayor Chambers being away Councillor M. Clemens is acting Mayor.

Funeral services over the remains of Sylvia Jean Levagood infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Levagood were held at the home and at Zion Evangelical church, Didsbury, on Friday afternoon, June 6th, 1924, and were largely attended. Among the mourners were the grandparents and great grandparents. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The text of the sermon preached by Rev. W. B. Dengis was Isaiah 40:11 "He shall gather the lambs in His arm and carry them in His bosom." Burial was made in Didsbury cemetery and was conducted by Mr. W. S. Durrer.

Don't forget the Stampede at Sundre on June 25th and 26th.

The 15th Canadian Light Horse go into annual training at Sarcee Camp on June 19th. Sergeants J. Stevens and W. Gochee are recruiting for this squadron and would like a few more recruits from this district. Anyone wishing to join should get in touch with them immediately.

The Tide Has Turned

The feeling of discouragement, amounting in some instances almost to despondency and pessimism, that has prevailed in Canada during recent years is passing away. Evidences of this are seen everywhere, and while there are still some croakers and prophets of blue ruin their number is steadily and more and more rapidly declining, while the ranks are filling up with Canadians who are openly giving proof of their confidence in the Dominion and its future.

A study of the Canadian situation, viewed from all angles, provides ample support for this more hopeful feeling, and goes to show that it is based on a solid foundation of facts. If this country suffers from one great national fault it is that, as a people, we take too short a view and are too impatient for results. We are a young country and are too apt to fall into the errors of youth. In an old country like England they do not expect to achieve great reforms over night, or in a year, or a decade. They realize that it has taken generations to effect reforms and advancements from which they now benefit. But too many people in Canada "want what they want when they want it," and become discouraged and discontented if it is not immediately forthcoming.

Having for some time past been engaged in discussing our difficulties and handicaps, let us, for a change, take a look at the brighter, truer side of the picture.

During the twelve months ended March last, Canada's trade was almost two billion dollars, and represented an increase of two hundred millions of dollars over the previous year. And whereas in 1922 our imports exceeded exports by over seven million dollars, in the year ended March last our exports exceeded imports by over $150,000,000.

During this last fiscal year Canada manufactured and exported 15,396 motor trucks as compared with only 3,720 the previous year, and passenger automobiles exported increased by over 9,000.

Canada's flour mills in this last year sold 11,175,000 barrels of flour abroad, or 1,590,000 more barrels than a year ago. In pulp and paper Canada exported $142,000,000, or $20,000,000 more than a year ago. In lumbering and mining, the same story of progress is recorded.

Wheat production in Canada last year totalled 474,000,000 bushels as compared with 161,000,000 bushels ten years ago, and the manner in which Canada is outdistancing the United States as an exporter of wheat is revealed in the fact that during the nine months ended March last the United States exported only $74,000,000 of wheat as compared with $161,000,000 in the corresponding months of the previous year, whereas Canada's wheat exports jumped from $111,000,000 to $158,000,000. In other words, where the United States exported $59,000,000 more than Canada in 1922-23, Canada exported $81,000,000 more than the United States in 1923-24.

These things are having their effect. Employment is much better today than a year ago, and very much better than two years ago. Railway earnings are decidedly better, with a consequent very gratifying drop in the deficit on the Canadian National Railways. For the first time since the war, Canada's national budget has been balanced, and the Government has been enabled to make a start in the reduction of taxation imposed, which, in turn, will have a beneficial effect on all industry.

But it is not in wheat production alone that a marked improvement is being recorded in the industry of agriculture. The growth in the dairy industry of the prairie provinces in recent years has been nothing short of marvellous, and while the livestock industry is still depressed, it is felt that rock bottom has been reached and that the tendency must now be upward towards larger markets and better prices.

Recently the manager of the only existing bank in one of our Western municipalities informed the writer that he did not know of a single farmer in the municipality who had lost money on his operations during 1923, and that he did know of scores of them who had made money and been able to substantially reduce their liabilities, while those fortunate ones without old debts had increased their holdings or their balances in the bank.

Following the depression and ebb of prosperity in the years after the war, the tide is again flowing in favor of Canada. Immigration is increasing, and both people and Government are at last awake to the necessity of acting energetically to secure large numbers of the right type of settlers for this country. Immigration assisted in bringing prosperity and development to Canada in the years prior to the war; it will have the same effect again.

There is, therefore, good reason why the feeling of depression should be fading away. There is no ground for pessimism. The country itself is all right. Mistakes have been made in the past which must be overcome, but they are not insurmountable. Faith and hard work will correct them. These are the main things Canada needs today. We believe Canadians, taken as a whole, are prepared to supply these two requisites.

Mineral Production Increase

Official statistics issued by Hon. Wm. Sloan, minister of mines for British Columbia, place the value of the mineral production of the province for 1923 at $11,301,320. This is $6,145,477 greater than the monetary value of the output during 1922, an increase of 17.5 per cent.

Dependent Children in Ontario

Approximately 15,000 children under sixteen years of age are dependent upon public charity in Ontario, according to the annual report of the administration of the Mothers' Allowance Act. Homes last year were found for 1,500 children, 2,250 were placed in orphanages, 225 in infants' homes and 436 in shelters.

Requisite on the Farm.—Every farmer and stock-raiser should keep a supply of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil on hand, not only as a ready remedy for ills in the family, but because it is a horse and cattle medicine of great potency. As a substitute for sweet oil for horses and cattle affected by colic it far surpasses anything that can be administered.

Summer Excursions

Canadian Pacific Railway Arrange Attractive Tours to East and West

Preparations for summer excursions, one of the popular features of the Canadian Pacific Railway, are well under way, and give promise of another successful year of passenger traffic.

The mountain resort hotels and bungalow camps operated by the Canadian Pacific are making ready to open their doors on May 15th and June 1st, and in conjunction with the holiday season the passenger department of the railway has arranged interesting circular trips for both Eastern and Western Canada.

Some attractive round trip excursions have been mapped out and not the least so is the excursion to the Pacific Coast on May 15th, and available all summer until September 30th. Tickets for the Pacific Coast will be on sale from points in Ontario west of Port Arthur, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, bearing the final return limit of October 30th. Stop-over privileges are a feature of this trip, giving passengers an opportunity of seeing some of Canada's finest scenery and visiting noted mountain resorts. Circular tour fares which include a trip on the main lines of the Canadian Pacific to Revelstoke and Sicamous, returning through the Arrow or Okanagan Lakes, are always in popular demand for those who love the natural beauty that one finds in British Columbia. These tickets are on sale May 15th with a return limit of October 31st, and are available from points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Covering the same time limit the Canadian Pacific will again place before the public summer excursion rates to Eastern Canada from points in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. An additional feature for east-bound travellers is the fact that these tickets are honored on the Company's lake boats upon a small extra charge to cover berth and meals.

An Oil that is Famous.—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

Sapling Sent From Russia

Tree Growing in White House Grounds Has History

There is a young tree with a history in the White House grounds in Washington. As a young man Charles Sumner (who was born in 1811) sent the Czar of Russia some acorns, which that monarch planted in the park of the Imperial Palace as symbolizing Russo-American friendship. From this tree, years later, the American Ambassador to Russia had gathered and planted some acorns; eventually he sent a sapling of the new generation to President Roosevelt, who, April 4, 1904, planted it in the White House grounds. This date was "exactly thirteen years before the day on which the United States joined hands with Russia and other European countries in the greatest conflict the world has ever known."

"Child's Eyelids Inflamed Stuck Together and Bled"

Mr. E. P. Kimball, Entwistle, Alta., writes:

"Our little girl from birth was troubled with inflamed eyelids and in spite of several remedies, grew worse until at the age of sixteen months her eyes could not be opened after sleep without bleeding, a waxy discharge sticking the lids together and adhering with great tenacity. The child's grandmothers were consulted by mail, and both responded with a little sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. These were used as directed, and lasted until we could obtain a further supply from Edmonton. Improvement was very marked from the first application. The waxy discharge was easier removed and did not reappear. Inflammation subsided and has not returned."

GIRLHOOD DANGERS

Can Be Avoided by Keeping the Blood Rich and Pure

The anaemia of young girls may be inherited, or it may be caused by bad air, unsuitable food, hasty and irregular eating, insufficient out-door exercise and not enough rest and sleep. It comes on gradually, beginning with languor, indisposition to exertion and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes palpitation of the heart and headaches. In the majority of cases constipation is present, and the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor. The treatment is quite easy and simple. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just the tonic to remedy this wretched state of health. They act directly upon the blood, and as it becomes rich and pure, strength and activity returns, the glow of health comes to the cheeks, and soon the trouble will disappear and good health follow. Miss Pearl Parks, R.R. No. 1, Reahora, Ont., has proved the value of this medicine, and her statement will point the way to health to all other weak girls. She says: "I was very ill with anaemia. I could not sleep at night; my appetite was poor, my face and lips were very pale and my eyes dull. I got so weak that I could not go upstairs without resting. I took dizzy and fainting spells, had no ambition whatever, and did not care to go about. I was in this condition for nearly a year. I had treatment from two doctors; but did not regain my strength, so my mother, who was very uneasy about me, decided I should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using the pills for a while I felt somewhat better, and continued taking them until I had used about a dozen boxes, when I was again well and strong. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the treatment of any suffering from anaemia."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

In 1919 the Bureau of Mines found 465,000 men in American mines from non-English-speaking races, many of whom were illiterate.

PREPARING FOR A FIGHT ON THE TARIFF ISSUES

Ottawa.—"There has been no selling out," declared Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, in the House during the continued debate on the budget. Mr. Motherwell was referring to relations between Liberals and Progressives. He added that the platforms of the two parties were identical.

Subsequent debate brought a further assurance from Premier King that right Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, was in sympathy with the budget proposals. "After making my last statement on Mr. Fielding's attitude," said the Premier, "I have had a conversation with Mr. Fielding and he requested me to repeat it again."

Col. Arthur (Conservative, Parry Sound), referred to immigration as one of the gravest problems Canada had to face. During the last fiscal year, 133,000 had entered Canada while, in the same period, 183,000 left Canada. Calculating that the average laboring man earned $1,000 a year, Canada lost $183,000,000.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell said the budget was a "real Liberal one." The parties were lining up for a fight on the tariff issues, and the budget was good in that it made a distinct cleavage between high and low tariff groups.

Mr. Motherwell said the Conservatives had not yet recovered from the surprise they received in the speech from the throne. The announcement from the implement manufacturers that they could get along very nicely under the new tariff was a final blow to the opposition, which was still frantically trying to represent industry as ruined by the tariff.

Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion had cried out that industry was being sacrificed to politics, that the Liberals had sold out to the farmers. "There has been no selling out," said the minister of agriculture. "Our platform is identical with the farmers. If we carry out ours, we automatically carry out theirs."

Replying to those "who try to cloud the tariff issue" by telling the western farmers to go into mixed farming, Mr. Motherwell pointed out that some of the prairie provinces produced more butter and eggs per capita than Ontario.

Should Keep In Closer Contact With New Settlers

Ottawa.—That the exodus of Canadians to the United States could be eliminated "by a close and sympathetic attention to immigrants before both their hearts and pockets break" was the salient observation of Col. E. Lindsay, British army officer and big game hunter, who was a visitor here. "One of the reasons for the falling down in the past has been in not keeping in close enough contact with the settler after he has arrived in the country, and in not fostering him safely through the initial period," he added.

No Rupture Between England and Russia

Committees Considering Question of Debts Between Two Countries

London.—Reports that have been widely circulated during the last few days that the negotiations of the Anglo-Russian conference had completely broken down are denied by both parties to the proceedings. Four committees are continuing the work of considering the questions of debts between the two countries, commercial credits, counter claims, territorial waters and a general commercial treaty. These committees have been working steadily for three weeks past preparing their reports for consideration by the plenary session of the accredited delegates.

It is currently rumored that the counter claim put forward by Russia, although exceedingly high, is not likely to outweigh the British claims. Immediate cash compensation to individuals is, however, regarded as out of the question. The committees are further studying the best methods of raising funds for the gradual liquidation of both private and national debts.

Soviets Warn Germany

Demand Apology for Police Raid on Headquarters in Berlin

Moscow.—In the absence of any satisfactory explanation from the German Government concerning the recent police raid on the Soviet trade headquarters in Berlin, the Russian Government is taking an increasingly serious view of the affair.

All the Soviet newspapers describe the incident in scare headlines and publish long condemnatory editorials in which they warn Germany that if adequate apology is not forthcoming, complications may ensue from which Germany will be the first to suffer.

M. Zinovieff, chairman of the executive committee of the Communist International, declares the incident was a deliberate attempt by Russia's enemies to wreck the Anglo-Russian conference in London. He believed, however, that Russia's cordial relations with the German people were so strong that nothing could break them.

Lieut.-Col. Amery was speaking at a non-political gathering and did not particularize as to how the development of the Anglo-Canadian shipping trade ought to be accomplished.

COULDN'T SLEEP HEART WAS BAD NERVES A WRECK

Mr. H. A. Reid, Upper Musquodoboit, N.S., writes:—"I am very thankful for the benefit I have received by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

When I came home from overseas, in 1920, my heart was very badly affected by concussion, and my nerves were a dreadful wreck. I was very short winded, and could not possibly sleep at night. In fact, I was in such a condition I felt as if I did not wish anyone to speak to me. I thought I would try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and before I had taken two boxes I could enjoy a good night's rest as well as anyone.

There are lots of returned men who are suffering the same as I did, and I feel sure if they would only try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills they will receive the same relief that I have."

Washington.—At the insistence of President Coolidge, the conferees from both houses on the immigration bill have reconsidered their decision on the Japanese exclusion provisions and will report a provision to make the exclusion effective March 1, 1925, with the understanding that meantime a formal abrogation of the gentleman's agreement will be negotiated.

Spain Mobilizes Planes

London.—A Reuter agency despatch from Seville, Spain, says the war minister has ordered all military airplanes and the personnel of the Spanish flying corps to be ready for immediate departure for Morocco.

Will Establish Patrols Along International Border

Winnipeg.—Sergts. Carter and W. R. The American authorities are co-operating with the Canadian officers to prevent liquor running and smuggling, and with a special view of saving either country from invasion by criminals from the other. Before returning to Winnipeg, Sergts. Carter and Day will make a tour of the border in order to ascertain whether any changes are advisable from the plan followed in 1923.

Montreal.—At a meeting of the Canadian Pacific board of directors held after the annual meeting of shareholders, E. W. Beatty was elected chairman and president. When Lord Shaughnessy retired from the presidency, the by-laws were changed, making it optional with the directors to have the position held by either one or two men. Grant Hall was re-elected vice-president, and retiring directors were re-elected.

Revenue From Stamp Tax

Ottawa.—An increase in the amount realized by the government from the stamp tax is indicated in the answer to a question in the Commons, when it was stated that from November 1, 1922, to March 31, 1923, the amount netted in both post office and customs departments from this source was $2,631,982. In the same period ending March 31, 1924, the amount was $3,914,489.

HOLD BIG RALLY TO BOOST THE H. B. RAILWAY

Saskatoon.—Business men and farmers from all parts of Northern and Central Saskatchewan have joined hands with practically every organization in Saskatchewan in urging immediate completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway.

At a big rally staged under Board of Trade auspices a Saskatoon branch of the On-to-the-Bay Association was launched, after ex-Mayor Chas. F. Gray, Winnipeg, president of the association; J. S. Menzies, Winnipeg, secretary; Col. R. H. Webb, Winnipeg; and other prominent men had spoken.

A resolution was unanimously passed urging upon the Dominion Government the immediate completion of the railway, and asking that the necessary legislation be passed at this session of parliament.

The resolution was proposed by O. D. Hill, of Melfort, and was seconded by Harris Turner, M.L.A. for Saskatoon.

Col. R. H. Webb, member of the working committee, in speaking to the audience, said German capitalists were ready to go ahead with the scheme if the people of Western Canada did not; $100,000,000 was the amount they had offered to raise to develop the mining, oil and other resources adjacent to the Hudson's Bay Railway. This was done before the war.

Since the war they had approached capitalists in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg to form a syndicate to develop these, and the question for Canadians to consider was, would they allow the Germans to do this thing or complete the road themselves.

Col. Webb said the straits and the Nelson River were open 350 days of the year, stating that he had been a visitor to the straits on many occasions and could back up his plain statement.

Swollen Joints, Quickly Limbered Up Rub On Nerviline

You would be surprised at the wonderful action of "Nerviline" in just such cases. Being thin and not an oil preparation, it is able to penetrate quickly, and down it sinks into the tissues, carrying its healing, soothing action wherever it goes. For stopping muscular or nerve pain, for easing a stiff joint, Nerviline is a complete success. Pain, soreness, stiffness all vanish before the magic power of this wonderful liniment. Nearly fifty years of success proves the merit of Nerviline, which is sold everywhere in large 35 cent bottles.

Reason Why Pigs Would Not Play With Certain Popular Stock Market Paper

Here's where we have a chance to get ahead of the Danes in hog raising—give them newspapers to play with. The suggestion comes from J. H. Sheppard, swine specialist at the North Dakota Agricultural College, who says:

"One of the best ways to keep thumps from taking toll in your pig pen is to see that all of the little chaps have a great abundance of wholesome exercise. If the pigs are given something that they can play with and tear up they will have no end of fun and will benefit because they are kept moving around instead of keeping still in one place.

"Newspapers are clean things for the pigs to play with but the papers should not be thrown down on top of dirty bedding or wet straw. If the pigs are to gain any value from the exercise the papers must be clean and dry when the pigs are allowed a chance to play with them. The pigs will run and play with the papers and keep busy with them until there is scarcely a scrap of paper left. This keeps the pigs busy and gives them the exercise that they need.

"Exercise is just as important for pigs as it is for other classes of animals, or for children for that matter. Throwing newspapers or clean torn gunnysacks to pigs is just like letting children play with marbles and baseballs. It gives them a chance to get into the fresh air and sunshine and move around voluntarily and happily."

Say this sounds like a great idea. If our "open spaces" can be utilized for playgrounds of the gambolling little porkers, we certainly have the edge on those Danes, whose hog raising stunts we have been hearing so much about. That is one thing that the west is "long" on—room—and we can give more of our land exclusively to hog play grounds than there is in all of Denmark.

When it comes to supplying the newspapers to stimulate the imagination in the little porkers' frivolities, the editors of Alberta papers will be more than pleased to realize that their productions can be of some practical use.

Owing to the valuable contents of The Exam, it would hardly be appropriate that it should be put even to this worthy cause—too much like casting pearls before swine—which is a practice which has been disapproved for a number of years. If the subscribers of this paper did not find it of such value that it is carefully stored among the family treasures for reference purposes, it might be admissible to give the little porkers a treat say on holidays, by allowing them a copy of The Exam. They could not help but benefit by the "food for thought" that it contains, and they would no doubt lead better lives and grow up into the up-standing, slab-sided kind of a mature hog that would capsize Dad Ainslee, Tom Williamson, or Hansen, or any other grader, to give them the glance of approval which cause them to be numbered among the elect—and select.—Market Examiner.

Now that's fine advice for encouraging young baby pigs to get an education but in regard to the later part of the article the Examiner is wise in its own generation because it realizes that these little piglets would refuse to even play with such an excellent stock paper which advises their chamber maids how to fatten them and then how to market them for the purpose of bringing their happy young lives to a sudden and terrible end—Nothin' doin', old top.—The Pioneer.

A PIED, PIPER

In Billy's job, as in many positions where men have won fame and distinction, it is personality that counts. It is his mission in life to inspire confidence, and to lure innocent sheep and lambs to their destruction with as great alacrity and lightness of gait as if they were skipping to the fields of Elysium, and this he does to the King's taste; he was born for his task. Though but two years old he has a substantial beard, and long white hoary locks. His mien is gentle and there are no horns visible which might give rise to fatal suspicions. But in his eyes there is an air of command, backed by the force of a portly frame, which enables Billy to do what he will with the sheep and lambs which come within his ken, and even influences calves to keep a straight path. In the busy season he saves the salaries of five men; in ordinary times he does the work of two or three.

He was three months old when he arrived at the Canadian Pacific Stock Yards, Montreal, but he took to the work at once. He followed the heels of the men, and while other animals tried at the work had to be coaxed to labor by rewards of cake and biscuits, Billy needed no such spur, but in three months time would glance at the sheep comfortably, start off at a cheerful trot and without hesitation the doomed animals would surround him and happily ascend the winding runway to the abattoir nearby. Then at a command he would go back and coax any stragglers, till he had all at hand ready to be slaughtered.

Now to look at Billy, it might seem that he did this work in all innocence, and that he was quite unaware that he had led his charges to any harm; but that would be doing an injustice to Billy's mighty intellect. He leads the flock right to the edge of the platform where they are killed, but then he carefully edges to the wall, keeping as far as possible from the danger point till he reaches the only spot of safety, then he slides back from the helpless sheep, wriggles out and goes back for another lot.

His treachery does not weigh on his spirits, he is utterly complacent and self-satisfied, impatient to be on the job.

The athletic part under the management of Sir James Shields and Mayor Boulton will include games, novel races and baseball. The eastern "Wildcats" (ladies baseball) will play the western "Tigers" and the winners challenge the married men for the trophy, a beautiful cup, presented by the Jutland Pastime Club.

Another feature of the program will be a Baby Contest, providing there is a man or woman on the grounds with the courage to act as judge. Supper at six. Come and have a good time.

A Daughter Of The Ranch

A Story of Romance and Adventure of Western Pioneer Days

— BY —
ALEXANDER D. McLEOD

(Published by Special Arrangement with the Author)

CHAPTER V.

One of the strangest features of western pioneer life on the prairies was the rapidity with which news of striking significance travelled from one sparsely settled community to another, and was disseminated among the homesteaders and ranchers in remote sections of the lonely prairies. With no more rapid means of communication than the rider of a sturdy broncho or Indian pony, ridden by a chance passerby, the news was left here and there along the trail as he passed on his way. From him the news was passed on among the scattered neighbors with an efficiency that was almost uncanny and weirdly suggestive of telepathy.

Remote as the Fraser ranch was from homestead or rancher neighbor—the nearest in any direction aside from the Indian reserve, being twenty miles away—the homesteader on the prairie, the rancher on the hills, north, south and east of the mountains, some of them forty miles away, were generally informed, within twenty-four hours of the abduction of Mary Fraser by "horse rustlers." Those possessing the luxury of horses, only lacking leadership, were willing and anxious to start off in a well-armed posse in pursuit of the bandits. At gathering points here and there throughout the communities, they assembled in groups to discuss the situation. Through lack of leadership, definite action was deterred, especially since the cooler heads trusted to the efficiency of the North West Mounted Police in dealing with the administration of law and order.

Accordingly when the news was brought to one of these gatherings by the two visitors from the Fraser ranch on their return home, that the girl was rescued by the stranger, MacRae, and her father, and, when it was learned that they had not only succeeded in recovering the stolen horses, but had also taken away in the night time, while they were asleep, the horses of the outlaws themselves, their enthusiasm broke all bounds. So elated were they that they decided there and then to go the next night in a body, women and all, and celebrate the event at the Fraser home. The chief mode of transportation possessed by most of the people were the patient and slow plodding ox teams. To overcome these disadvantages it was arranged that all who had horses would take their wagons, and place at the disposal of their less favoured neighbors this more effective means of travelling. Thus it was arranged so that all who could might be enabled to enjoy the event.

At the Fraser home, while they knew that the news of the kidnapping and the timely rescue of their daughter had spread among the distant neighbors, they were not aware of the personal interest the people had taken in the event. Still less were they aware of the extensive preparations that were being made by them for the jubilation of the coming evening. While they anticipated that they might have some visitors, as vaguely hinted by the young men who had been their guests the previous evening, they did not concern themselves with preparations for the reception of a large crowd, the size of which they had not anticipated. Mrs. Fraser, however, always a good provider, had early that morning a large baking well under way to have her larder replenished with many delicacies long before the weary worn members of the family and guest were called to a late breakfast. With the help of Winona she had performed all the morning household duties, as well as having done the outside chores, without disturbing those, who, owing to their nerve-racking experiences, were greatly in need of this long morning rest.

Refreshed after a long sleep with all signs of weariness gone, Mary, Ronald and Mr. Fraser arose late, partook of a hearty breakfast of bacon and eggs and delicious toast, made from Mrs. Fraser's own light and flaky home-made bread. This fare was particularly relished by Ronald as an enjoyable change from the rations of hard tack which had practically been the only bread he had fared on since he had enlisted four years before. His jokes about "pork, beans and hard tack" amused both the father and daughter as the breakfast proceeded. His reminiscences of the rebellion campaign interested them and the humor of them afforded considerable amusement. Before breakfast was over Mary extracted a promise from him that on some other occasion, when they had more time and leisure, he would give her a more detailed account of the interesting events of the campaign. After breakfast, acting on a proposal from Mr. Fraser, Ronald accompanied him to the corral to look after the horses and let them out to graze, while Mary went to assist her mother in the house work.

It was late afternoon when Ronald, returning from accompanying Mr. Fraser on a round of his ranch, led his horse to the stable and discovered Sgt. Melvin's horse in one of the stalls and his saddle hanging on a peg nearby. Ronald thought that, obviously and with intent, he made a hasty return from his pursuit of the outlaws. From Ronald's standpoint he was not a welcome visitor to the Fraser ranch at the present time. He looked upon his arrival with a certain sense of resentment in view of the intimate friendship already existing between these two people. While as yet he regarded his own chances of winning Miss Fraser's special favor with only a slight degree of assurance, he resented the dominating personality of the sergeant thus stepping in between them to monopolize her chief attention. It appeared to him that his attentions to Miss Fraser were of a serious nature, but he was by no means satisfied as to whether those feelings were reciprocated by her. Until he was fully assured that such was the case he was not in the mood to leave an open field to his accomplished rival. Thus assuming an air of self-assurance he accompanied his host into the house, and diplomatically extended a cordial greeting to the sergeant. With veiled irony he complimented him on his rapid work in running down the outlaws.

The nimble-witted sergeant sensing the note of irony in the compliment, replied: "The same ill-luck followed us when we failed to have the honor of rescuing Miss Fraser from their clutches. We were too late. Four of the men were detained by the men patrolling the International boundary while endeavouring to make their escape across on foot. The fifth, their leader, known as 'Dutch Pete,' a dangerous outlaw, with some murders and several gun fights to his credit, and who is wanted by the American authorities, escaped, at least for the present. By outwitting his companions and leaving them in the lurch, he made good his escape with the only horse left after your raid. A little more weight applied to that 'billy' of yours would have done good service to Uncle Sam as well as to the Canadian authorities."

"What was done to the captured men?" asked Ronald.

"They were summarily tried before the Police Inspector at Portal last night, and, pleading guilty to the charge of horse stealing, they were each given three years penal servitude."

"That is quick work," replied Ronald; "it reflects considerable credit on the efficiency of the Mounted Police."

The sergeant, mollified by this compliment to the force of which he, himself, was an efficient sub-officer, replied: "Yes, in so wide a territory as we have to cover it is sometimes difficult to capture offenders. There is one satisfaction, however, in the fact that, when offenders are captured, justice is administered with dispatch. The guilty have small chance of escaping due punishment, and, on the other hand, the innocent have equal chances of acquittal."

"It is unfortunate that 'Dutch Pete' as he is called, was not captured with the rest of the gang. The horse that was left must have been in the brush, as I took a good look around to see that none was left when I cut them loose. But, as the saying goes: 'The Devil looks after his own.'"

While this passage of words was going on between the two men, Mary quietly took in the situation, and for the first time it dawned upon her that the motives behind their rapacious thrusts might be due to their sentiments regarding herself. Her intuitive foresight prompted her to, in future, use her feminine tact in handling these men while together in her company. To prevent all possible chances of a clash that might prove embarrassing, she suggested that, if they wish, they might go to their rooms and have a wash before dinner, while she went to the kitchen to help her mother.

Ronald at once acted on this suggestion, but as he reached the foot of the stairs he turned round and saw that the sergeant was following Mary into the kitchen. This act on his part proved to be slightly disconcerting to his equality. It was an act that to him indicated unusual familiarity in the domestic affairs of the family, and tended to heighten his suspicion of a relationship somewhat closer than mere friendship. So it was with a heavy heart he ascended to his room.

At the dinner hour Mary took her former place beside him at the table. In the rivalry of gallantry he had the advantage over the sergeant, who, sitting on the other side of the table, could not monopolize her chief attention, as he evidently desired. This rivalry developed into a contest of polished repartee and wit, mixed with marked attentions to the lady in the case. In this respect the men were accomplished antagonists. Both had been brought up and trained in surroundings of educational and social advantages, and had accordingly absorbed their fair share of the polish and snavity of such circles. Yet their rivalry was carried on with an ease and naturalness of manner that eliminated all suggestions of ostentation or bitterness. Both were playing for a prize, and both enjoyed playing the game.

While pleasantly engaged in conversation some time after the dinner hour, they were startled by loud whoops and yells from the direction of the lake road. Hastening to the door they saw four men dressed in full cowboy regalia in the act of dismounting at the lake shore just in front of the house. They had evidently taken this unique method of announcing their arrival. The three went down to where the cowboys had taken their stand, and as they approached the sergeant asked: "What is the idea, boys?"

One of them replied: "To sergeant; we heard there is gold 't' be shindag 'nigh, and we are here 't' take it in. I guess me an' the boys are the first 't' git here."

A snifle from the group greeted this announcement of the cowboys, and Miss Fraser asked in a kindly way if there were more people coming.

Awkwardly touching his hat, the spokesman said: "Yes, ma'm; they are all coming. Me an' the boys passed three wagons full of homesteaders with their missis, and gels, and bachelors, too, comin'. They are comin' to celebrate yer you ma'm."

"That is certainly nice of them. All right boys tie up your horses and make yourselves at home. Have you had your suppers?"

"Yes, ma'm, we allus have our grub with us."

As stated by the cowboys there were others. They proved to be only a small advance guard of a like numerous company that struggled on in groups from time to time, to be followed before the dusk of evening, by wagon loads of mixed companies. They came thus for many miles to pay their respects and express from the kindness of their hearts their joyful thankfulness for the rescue of the girl, though a stranger, to them from the dangers that had encompassed her. They came under great difficulties for many miles to rejoice with this family in their good fortune. The large number that had gathered by dusk was a surprise to them all. One wondered where they all could have come from in a land so sparsely settled. Some were ranchers who had made their homes among the hills like themselves; others were homesteaders from the open prairies. Some, only a few, were married men with their wives and families, mere children; others married men with their families still in the east, and some unmarried men. Most of them had made, or were making, their homes on the lonely prairies, where, with the optimism of all western pioneers, they ploughed deep furrows in the virgin soil, from which in time they were to reap rich harvests upon which their hopes were building their happy and prosperous homes of the future. Thus, this self-invited crowd, besides desiring to do honor to their brother rancher in their joyful reunion, enjoyed the anticipation of the inestimable pleasure that would be afforded them of passing a few fleeting hours in social intercourse with their human kind. Inured to hardships as they were, they heeded not the shocks of their unyielding seats; as on their tedious journey they had covered, on rough trail, the many miles that separated their lonely homesteads from this present gathering place. Uppermost in their minds was the thought of the pleasure that this unusual occasion meant to them; a bright day in the monotony of their lives on the lonely homesteads. Remote from social advantages, their natures craved relaxation, even though temporary, from the ennui of the daily routine of a life largely denied the pleasures of free social intercourse and association with their fellow beings. Such events marked milestones in the lives of the early settlers.

Luminous Mountain

In the Pacific wilds of New Britain, in the Bismarck Archipelago, is a mountain of which the crest and sides shine with a strange light, and mariners report that those who go near suffer from a painful rash of the skin.

The glow can be seen for miles, and it is certainly not caused by any volcanic phenomenon. Scientists believe that the light is due to radium or some radio-active mineral in the rock, and an expedition is to be sent out by the Australian Government to investigate.

Spread of Sleeping Sickness

The rapid spread of the sleeping sickness in Great Britain is causing considerable alarm. In January last there were 75 cases, in February 217, in March 468 and in the first three weeks of April 649 cases were reported. The proportion of the deaths has not been large but the after effects of the disease very often are serious.

Buffalo Thrive In Yukon

Small Herd Imported From Wainwright Park, Alberta

Veterans from the Yukon territory who rushed into the Ketchikan district recently were optimistic about the importation of 24 buffaloes from Wainwright Park, Alberta, to a game preserve in Central Yukon. They predicted that within a few years the raising of these buffaloes would be as profitable to the Yukon as the reindeer industry has become to Northern Alaska.

Tells Just Why She Is So Thankful

Ontario Lady Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

She had suffered with bladder trouble for years, but Dodd's Kidney Pills quickly relieved her.

Bright, Ont.—(Special).—"I received your Dodd's Almanac and have been going to write to you ever since. I am the mother of four children and have had very bad bladder trouble. I took different medicines and all the time it kept getting worse. At last my mother told me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I got two boxes and they have completely relieved me. I have never been so thankful for anything in my life, as I was for those pills." This statement is made by Mrs. Henry D. Christensen, well known resident of this place.

Women's troubles, or nearly all of them, come from sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will relieve kidney troubles, no matter where or in what form it is.

Sound kidneys mean pure blood. Pure blood means good health.

Ask your neighbor if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for sick kidneys.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not be without it. I have taken it before each of my children was born and afterwards, and find it a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and ringing in my ears. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of my husband told him what the Vegetable Compound had done for his wife and advised him to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help as it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. SMITH, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intended. Thousands of women testify to this fact.

Late Spring Curtails Crop

Some Reduction in Wheat Acreage in Saskatchewan Is Expected

The lateness of the season is responsible for an estimated reduction of 10 per cent. in the acreage that will be seeded to wheat in the province this year, according to a crop report issued by the bureau of statistics of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture.

On the other hand, an increase of 10 per cent. in the area sown to flax is anticipated. The reports indicate that fall rye has wintered well in most places.

A shortage of farm help is reported in some places, but in others the demand has been fairly well satisfied.

Market For Store Cattle

Possibilities for Canada in Great Britain Are Unlimited

The market possibilities for Canadian store cattle in Great Britain are almost unlimited, J. H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, told the agriculture committee of the House of Commons, Ottawa. With Ireland shipping as many as one million head per year to England and Scotland, the market is there for Canadian store cattle. Up to the present Canada has only shipped a small number owing to the cost of marketing, he said. The market for chilled beef in the United Kingdom might be made very profitable if the position of the Canadian production could be made secure.

A SPLENDID LAXATIVE FOR THE BABY

Mothers should constantly be on guard to keep baby's bowels working freely and his stomach sweet, for nine-tenths of the ailments from which little ones suffer are caused by derangements of the stomach and bowels. Baby's Own Tablets are a splendid laxative for the baby. They are mild but thorough; contain neither opiates nor narcotics, and are absolutely guaranteed to be safe and efficient for either the newborn babe or the growing child. By their action on the bowels and stomach they drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make the dreaded teething period easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Chinese Phone Girls Quick

China's telephone system is the most up-to-date in the world. So declares Norman W. Anderson, a telephone engineer of the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company, who arrived at Liverpool on the Canadian Pacific liner Montclair.

Statistics, he states, show that Chinese operators can secure a connection in three and a half seconds, whereas in London the average call takes six seconds to connect.

Doing Away With Sleep

English Scientist Claims Discovery of Substitute for Real Thing

It is with mixed feelings that one learns of the discovery by an English scientist of a process which will do away with the need of sleep. During sleep the weary brain-cells are recharged with vital force, which is electro-chemical in character. Dr. David Fraser Harris has devised an apparatus for recharging the brain-cells with the vital force of the requisite quantity and quality. So it may be that, in the near future, we shall be able to dispense with sleep, and obtain in a few minutes all the recuperative benefit which mankind has heretofore gained by "drinking deep of all the blessedness of sleep."

Time can thus be saved—but how much would be lost! For sleep is not desirable and desired only because it recharges the brain-cells. It brings merciful oblivion to the woes and troubles of life. It stays hasty and ill-considered action, and prepares the way for the wise second thought. Not alone in a physical sense is it "tired Nature's sweet restorer." For many other reasons do most of us feel like echoing the sentiment of Sancho Panza, "God bless the man who first invented sleep."

Somehow we are compelled to doubt if the scientific substitute for sleep will ever displace the real thing, even if it were to prove as effective as its discoverer hopes. It may be used in emergencies, to enable people to keep going when they are fatigued out and have no time to sleep. But Nature's ways are best.—Hamilton Herald.

Women's Ailments Caused by Neglect

Proper Treatment Will Quickly Bring Back Robust Health and Good Spirits

Women are on the whole more sickly than men. One reason is that their system is more complicated; another and more important reason is, they put off measures of relief too long. At the beginning, constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of women's ailments. The blood becomes weakened and polluted—the nerves suffer, and a run-down condition takes root.

Because of their mildness of action as a system regulator, no medicine for women can compare with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The kidneys quickly respond to the remedial action of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and the result is as you would expect—pain in the back and side, shortness of breath, and bad color disappear—the functions of the body then operate naturally, congestion and pain are prevented, and perfect health returns.

Thousands of happy women say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest and best blood purifier, the finest complexion renewer, the most certain regulating medicine known. Sold by all druggists and storekeepers, 25c per box, five for $1.00 postpaid, from The Catarrhzone Co., Montreal.

ISAIAH AND THE ASSYRIAN CRISIS

Golden Text: God is our refuge and strength, A very present help in trouble.

Psalm 46:1.

Lesson: 2 Kings, Chapters 18 to 20; Isaiah, Chapters 36 to 38.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 16.

The Text Explained and Illumined

L. Hezekiah's Prayer on Receiving Sennacherib's Message, verses 14-20. Sennacherib, King of Assyria, was in the neighborhood of Judah with a vast army. See the Historical Background. He sent a letter to Hezekiah, King of Judah, designed to show Hezekiah how hopeless was resistance on his part. "Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hands of the King of Assyria," Sennacherib wrote. "Behold, thou hast heard what the Kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered?" Well did Hezekiah know his enemy's power. He was in desperate straits, but, as Matthew Henry says somewhere in David, "when he was at his wife's end he was not at his faith's end." He took the letter into the temple and "spread it before Jehovah." "If a letter is not grave enough to be spread before God, it is too small to annoy us." "O God of hosts," he cried in the anguish of his heart, "hear all the words of Sennacherib, who hath sent to defy the living God. O Jehovah our God, save us from his hand, that all kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art Jehovah, even thou only." "Trouble and perplexity drive me to prayer, and prayer drives away trouble and perplexity" (Melancthon).

Cargo Worth Millions

C.P.R. Liner Carried Shipment of Silk and Siberian Skins

With several million dollars worth of silk, the largest cargo of Siberian skins ever brought across the Atlantic Ocean, and a passenger list of over 700, the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Russia docked at Vancouver recently. Within a few minutes from the time the big liner was tied up, the silk was being emptied from her holds into the specially fitted box cars which awaited it. Less than three hours later the entire shipment pulled out of the railway yards for its destination in the eastern markets.

HEAVY FROST SUNDAY NIGHT

A fine rain fell all through the district on Sunday, commencing early in the morning and lasting nearly all day. The weather turned very cool towards night but very few expected the heavy frost which fell during the night, cooking the beans, scorching the corn and otherwise doing considerable damage to garden stuff generally. No damage was done to the crops, however, as far as can be ascertained.

Mr. J. Manson reported nine degrees of frost out at the Red Deer early on Monday morning and ice of considerable thickness was seen in Didsbury.

Rosebud Hotel Receives License

The long drouth of eight years which has caused those who like a glass of foaming beer, without making a criminal of themselves, to hang out their tongues has at last been broken and the Rosebud Hotel opened up on Tuesday noon with a line of draught and bottled beer.

Mrs. Harmer, the manager, states that the license was telegraphed down to them on Tuesday morning and the license itself arrived at Tuesday noon.

They are following the same procedure as in Calgary, selling an 8 oz. glass of beer for 10c.

The Rosebud has complied with all the government regulations in regard to selling and have fixed up a sitting room with tables where the old soft drink dispensary was established.

Now that the new order of the liquor business has been put into force it is a matter of both those who indulge and those who dispense it to observe the decencies and to be careful that they do not over indulge if they wish to preserve their liberties in this matter.

No hard liquors or malt liquors of any kind, outside of draught and bottled beer, can be obtained at the hotel. If anything else is wanted it will have to be obtained through the government vendors store either at Calgary or Red Deer and then only on a permit. The Rosebud is the only place in town that has a license.

However the arm did not seem to get better and they brought him in to Dr. Clarke on Tuesday when it was found that the arm had been broken. The little fellow was put under chloroform and the arm set again.
